

It is important for management councils to safeguard India's heritage & global outlook

(AOEC's vision for) Making future ready and sustainable craft forms and products

My handbook / kit for future ready & sustainable craft forms and products is soon going to be available on the website for craft of India, the URL is:

www.venkataoec.wixsite.com/universeofcraft

For innovators & artists, please refer to my website on future generic art, the URL is:

www.venkataoec.wixsite.com/futuregenart

For MSME(s), please refer to my website on how one can incorporate sustainable development and growth, the URL is:

www.venkataoec.wixsite.com/resourcecentre

For craft forms and products

The self-help kit will provide a handbook and different templates for globally important but still undeveloped or potentially under risk craftsmanship.

What is NEXT?

I expect to interact with different management councils for category wise or state wise craft development to decide on how we can take this further. In case of any need or interest, please send your queries to venkataoec@gmail.com. AOEC stands for Akaash Open Enterprise Centre.
